For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly creditable to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be asserted of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, cat-arrhs, and approaching consumptions.— To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient wherever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water, A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

SAMUEL SNOWDEN.
ROYAL STREET.

Daily Gazette 87—Country Gazette 85.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1818.

From the Boston Weekly Magazine.

A LIE, for ninnence told, is ninnence guilt.

So say our tape and bobbin dealers, A set of honest clever fellows, Who shave or try to shave their train Of customers, except those elves Who shave themselves.

How passing rich these sharpeners grow, If they, for every lie they tell,
Have so much money got.

But no—
Some lie for less—e'en for a penny!
Lie for a penny? Yes, and many.

Very many, lie for naught. [cheap, No wonder then, since they lie so We see so many bankrupts now, Driv'n to the lap-stone or the plow, Or doom'd once more to creep O'er the same ground they crept before; No wonder that our 'great men' say (For 'tis enough to raise their choler) Cornhill's insolvent and can pay But fifty cents upon the dollar.

Cheap! Cheap's the cry—come unto me, Ye ignorant, and buy my wares;
I deal on honor!—call and see!
I tell you, customers, beware;
This boasted honor is a bankrupt name For rogues to swear by—let them swear in vain:

Here! here they go!—for less than cost!
Bargains! fine bargains!—here they go!
Look to your pockets, friends, for lo, They have a way to live by loss.

A word to the wise—and think well of it, Whenever you go forth to buy,
Be sure to call on those who try To get a living by their profit. M.M.

BRAZIL.

An American gentleman recently a resident at Pernambuco, has favored the Editors of the New-York Gazette with the following remarks, &c.

Nature has beautified the Brazil-beyond description; blessed it with a climate perhaps superior to any other part of the world, and profusely scattered over its surface its richest productions. Yet such is the ignorant stupidity of the beings who enjoy without being sensible of these blessings, that though one may gaze with wonder and delight on the beauties of the scenery, he cannot but contemplate it as a garden overrun by monsters.

Travellers have represented the inhabitants as being for the most part ignorant, superstitious, effeminate, lazy, cruel and cowardly—of a temper hypocritical and dissembling—of little sincerity in conversation, or honor in dealing. My intercourse with them, gives me no reason to attempt an amendment of the character.

Possessing therefore, in a pre-eminent degree, every qualification requisite for slaves, what have the world to expect from the efforts of such a people in achieving their independence? In the first place, they are too ignorant to know that it is worth contending for. But should time and experience remove this obstacle, they are constitutionally too effeminate, lazy, and cowardly, to make any thing like a successful struggle for its attainment. I speak of the great mass of the people. There are, or rather were among them, some noble exceptions; men of intelligence and courage, who justly estimated the value of liberty. But such exceptions, if they exist at all, are very rare at present; for these qualifications were of course thought by the king to be sins of too great magnitude to go unpunished, and were very sure to prove for their possessors, a passport to the gallows.

The late revolution indeed, and the subsequent conduct of those who abetted it, is better than a volume of the official reasoning, to enable us to judge of their competency to establish their independence. They were, at the commencement of it, no doubt, pleased with the idea of liberty—not because they knew the worth of it, but for the same reason that a child is, for awhile, pleased with a rattle, because it was a novelty.—Their efforts to possess it, continued therefore as long as they found them attended with little difficulty and no danger.
But when a small squadron that could not land a thousand men, appeared before the town, their patriotism evaporated as mysteriously as that of some of our porter house grators, during our late war with England. Indeed, the panic was so general, that before a gun was fired, a party of forty or fifty Portuguese sailors (whose vessels had been embargoed in the port from the commencement of the revolution) landed and took possession of the first Fort that the Patriots took from the Royalists the day on which the revolution broke out. A few hours after, Commodore Labo, with some of his officers, landed from his squadron without opposition, and the people received him with every manifestation of joy.

The day before these transactions took place in Pernambuco, the Government received information that a body of the Royalists, consisting of about three hundred men, who had marched by land from St. Salvador, together with as many more Indians, who had joined them on their march, were advancing upon the rear of the town, and then about twenty miles distant from it. Martins, though not a military man, took command of a body of 600 men, and advanced to give them battle. He encamped the first night of his march a short distance from the enemy, and at day light the next morning, found that half of his men had deserted. He was soon attacked; a slight skirmish ensued, in which he was wounded—his troops fled in every direction, but principally to the enemy. He made his escape in disguise, but was shortly afterwards betrayed by an old woman, in whose house he had sought for concealment.
The victorious troops marched into the city, and the king's authority was immediately established. Paraiba, Rio Grande, and some other small towns to the north, and to the interior, followed in quick succession the example of Pernambuco.

Of those who had espoused the cause of the revolution, more than ninety-nine of a hundred, with the trembling duplicity of Spaniards, were now not only loudest in their huzzas to welcome the return of the king's authority, but were also loudest in their denunciations of the residue of those with whom they had acted.— Hence prisoners were daily marching into the city from almost every part of the province, and confiscations and executions were daily taking place.

Their treatment of the lifeless bodies of these prisoners, is worthy of savages. After the prisoner is put to death (which is done by hanging) his head and hands are cut off, and his body made fast to a horse and dragged through the filth and dust of the principal streets of the city. This ceremony has followed every execution that has taken place there—and is strikingly characteristic of the present state of refinement in that country; or rather, it indicates how nearly the people and their rulers are assimilated in their passions and manners to a state of barbarism.

After sufficiently gratifying themselves with this horrid spectacle, their heads and hands were either erected on poles on some conspicuous place, where they remained to "fright the souls of fearful adversaries" or sent to some other town in the province for a like exhibition. Indeed, there is scarce a much frequented spot or public square in the city, but exhibits some part of the mangled bodies of these unfortunate adventurers. Some were sent in irons to St. Salvador and Rio de Janeiro, there to be executed; others banished to Africa, and about three hundred now remain in the prisons of Pernambuco and Paraiba, who are doomed, no doubt, soon to experience the "tender mercies" of this mercil-ful government.

Thus has terminated the revolution in the Brazil. We have there seen five hundred thousand people pass from under the yoke of the most abject servitude, without the loss of scarce a drop of blood, to a position from which, had it been spiritedly maintained, they might have increased the value of their mines of diamond and gold, by an introduction of the brighter, and far more valuable gem of Liberty. But a combination of ignorance and vice, forbade so happy an issue; and thus we have seen them return again to their former state of bondage, with as little ceremony, and, apparently, with as little reluctance as they left it. Perhaps, indeed, recent events, as they have been well calculated to excite terror, have rendered the authority of the crown more secure than before.—And unless he who created them, shall create in them a new spirit, they will probably listen to the clank of their chains, another century.

It has been said that to no poet was there ever given so awful a revelation of the passions of the human soul, as to Byron.

ALEXANDRIA FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASH-INGTON.

Thursday, January 8, 1818.

Yesterday Mr. Mercer proposed a resolution, which was adopted by the House of Representatives, to appoint a committee to enquire into the expediency of causing to be printed the journals and proceedings of Congress from the year 1783, together with the correspondence of our government with the ministers and agents in foreign countries. Also of printing the journal of the general convention which framed the constitution of the United States; and that the committee should have leave to report by bill or otherwise. A printed publication of greater interest, and perhaps utility, has rarely issued from the press than this will be. It will be the manual of American politicians and statesmen.

The most striking feature in yesterday's proceedings was the disclosure by a highly respectable member of the house of a bold attempt at bribery. Mr. Williams, of N. Carolina, the chairman of the committee of claims, rose in his place, and desired leave to lay before the house a letter addressed and delivered to him by a person called colonel John Anderson. In presenting the letter Mr. Williams observed, that wherever he was really known such an attempt would not have been made upon him; but that since it had been made, he considered it his duty to lay the letter and a full statement of the transaction with which it was connected, before the house. He said that he declined making any further remarks upon it, because he was too much excited to manage the matter as he could wish, and because it was the peculiar province of the house to give to the affair the consideration it deserved, and to determine what ought to be done in it.

This col. John Anderson, it appears, was employed by the inhabitants of the Michigan territory, who suffered losses during the late war, to urge their suits for relief at the seat of government, and endeavor to get substantiated before the committee of claims their claims for compensation for the losses they had sustained. In this situation the colonel seems to have been suddenly impressed with a notion that by the dexterous application of a sum of money, he might swerve the chairman of that committee to favor the claims of himself and his clients; and in the letter now produced he offered Mr.
Williams a present of five hundred dollars to secure his good offices; and he himself in person delivered the letter.— It is evident that he was aware of the criminality of his attempt, for in his letter he enjoined Mr. Williams to secrecy in the most earnest manner. Sadly, however, was he mistaken in his man, for Mr. Williams at once spurned from him with abhorrence and indignation the proffered gift and the giver, and ordered Anderson to quit his sight, declaring to him that he would divulge the profligate attempt to the House of Representatives.— Anderson had recourse to the most humile entreaties and affecting supplications to persuade Mr. Williams to suppress the matter and forgive him; but all in vain.
The latter, as in honor and duty bound, was inexorable; and at as early an hour as the customary routine of public business would allow, laid the whole affair before the house in the manner just stated.

Upon the representation of these facts, which was read from Mr. Williams' statement by the clerk at the table, Mr. Forsyth moved that the speaker should order the sergeant at arms to take colonel John Anderson into custody.

The sensation this incident produced in the house was so strong, that during the detail and proceedings that grew out of it, so large a number of members stood collected near the speaker's and clerk's chairs, and in the intermediate space between them and my seat, that I could not hear one word in five of the observations made upon the occasion. I could see, however, that General Harrison, Mr. Livernore, Mr. Johnson of Kentucky, and Mr. Cushman spoke; but what they said, or indeed any part of it, I could not catch with my ear as to understand it.— The order for arresting Anderson, however, was issued by the speaker, and the sergeant at arms was despatched in pursuit of him. Nothing further was known about him when I left the house of congress.
I must add that most of the members manifested great indignation at the wickedness and folly of the attempt.

The wearisome compensation bill was then called up to receive a third reading, and one more attempt was made to reverse the decision of the preceding day.
Gen. Harrison moved to reconsider the bill in order to lower the compensation to six dollars a day, and Mr. Williams seconded the motion.—While Mr. Ogile, Mr. Mon-roly and Mr. Cobb spoke against it so successfully that the motion was negatived, and the bill passed. Mr. Cobb's argument was, that a married man's leaving his wife at home behind him, was as much as to say that he was ashamed of her—from which he thought every man ought to be accompanied by his wife, if he had one—at least every other session—for which purpose eight dollars a day was by some dollars too little. Indeed, he thought it too little for single men.

By way of relief, however, for these scrupulous gentlemen whose patriotism was shocked at the thoughts of taking eight dollars a day, he proposed a clause (I would call it the clause exurgatoria) permitting them to take as little as they pleased, and let the others take the eight dollars or even more, and battle it out with their own constituents.

The question on the passing of the bill was taken by ayes and noes:

HIGHEST PRIZE EVER SOLD IN AMERICA.
By express from Baltimore yesterday morning, Messrs. Allens' of this city received intelligence that ticket No. 3830, in the Surgical Lottery, came up on New Year's Day the grand capital prize of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.— The fortunate ticket was sold by them to two ladies and a young gentleman of this city.

We are very happy to learn, that Mr.
Potter, her sister, and Mr. D. Schenck, jr. are the fortunate and deserving own-

[N. Y. Gaz. Jan. 5.]

LUCK AND ALL LUCK.

Mr. Benjamin Eaton, jr. of this town is the owner of ticket No. 1191, in the Baltimore Surgical Lottery, which had drawn the rich prize of $50,000, making the fourth favor which Fortuna has bestowed upon him. He was yesterday offered the money for it at a small discount. The ticket was first purchased by a farmer in Chelmsford, then sold to Mr. Huntington for a trifling advance, and resold to Mr. E. [Boston Cent.]

The Newburyport Herald states, that captain Brown, who arrived there in the brig Hazard, is bearer of despatches from the Russian government. It was said at Cronstadt that these despatches related to the trade between Russian East Indian territories and the United States.— The Russian consul, resident at Boston, who arrived at that place on Sunday last, left Russia after the Hazard sailed.

Savannah, Dec 31.

I, an article much wanted in our market. It will readily command one dollar seventy five cents per bushel; and, indeed, we think two dollars might be obtained for the best kind of flint corn, as there is but little in market.

From the Baltimore American, Jan. 8.

The arrival of the schooner Manlius, Young, in 42 days from Rio Janeiro, has furnished the following intelligence: Markets very dull for U. S. produce, particularly flour, which was arriving in great quantities from Chili. Coffee 3—800 reis per arroba. White sugar 2—900 Hides per lb. 93 reis. On 1st of Jan. a new tariff was to be established, and the duties would be much increased; also a tonnage duty equal to what the Portuguese pay in the country to which the vessels belong. The U. S. ship Ontario, Capt. Biddle, arrived at Rio Janeiro in 43 days from N. York; all well; she was to sail in a few days for the Pacific, where our commerce was much in want of protection, owing to the depredations of the Lima cruizers. The British frigate Amphion, Com. Bowles, sailed from Buenos Ayres for Valparaiso—great preparations were said to be making at St.
Lago de Chilli, the capital, to receive him in style, as it is believed he goes to communicate with the Patriot Government relative to commercial arrangements with them. The British brig of war Jarus, arrived at Rio, and proceeded immediately for Rio de la Plata. The ships of war Blossom and Tyne, were at Rio just from England, and it was reported was to be sent round Cape Horn. The S. American station is to be reinforced.
The e were also at Rio two Austrian frigates, one Russian do, and several Portuguese ships of the line.

It was reported that the king would be crowned on the 17th Dec. 1817.
The princess Leopoldine, wife of the hereditary prince, had arrived, and was received with great joy by the inhabitants —report spoke flatteringly of her talents and amiable character: the Brazilians saw favorably not only as respects a general amelioration of the country at large, but also that by her superior address she will be able to tame the ungov-ernable temper of her surly husband, so much decried, as he has shown such marks of tyranny that gave real alarm to the well wisers of the country.

LIVERPOOL PACKET.

This day, the 5th of January, will witness the commencement of the line of American packets between New-York and Liverpool. The James Monroe is expected to take her departure at 10 o'clock this morning. This important and novel undertaking has excited in our minds a train of animating reflections. We need go no farther back than to our own early recollections, to discover a time when one or two ships from England brought all the goods of British fabric which the annual wants of this city demanded.— Their voyages too were performed at the mildest season of the year, and this port was deemed almost unapproachable during the severity of winter. Now, we see the vessels of one concern only bringing rich cargoes once a month, and bringing the surge of all seasons of the year.— What a striking evidence it furnishes of the growing commerce of our city, of the activity of her merchants, and the skill and integrity of her seamen. It is to be hoped that this arrangement will be completely successful, as it promises to be of great public utility. The importance and the passenger will not be the only persons benefited by it—the politician also will share in its useful effects. It will be a sort of chain, connecting the old and the new world, and interchanging between them the products of industry and the sentiments of friendship.

COMMERCIAL.

Liverpool, Nov. 5.
Our cotton market is in an uncommon dull state; last week only 700 bags found a market, while the imports for the same period (owing to the wind coming in from the west, after blowing 4 or 5 weeks from the eastward) was 27,460 bags, which includes 5,800 bags from the United States, but such is the firmness of holders that prices cannot be said to have given way more than 3 d for Brazil, and for United States cotton scarcely any thing: in fact, so little business has been done, that it is difficult to say whether there is any giving way in prices. It remains to be seen whether quotations at present can be supported under such a sudden accumulation; for our own part we must confess our doubts; but others equally as well, perhaps much better informed, are very sanguine, and even look for a rise before long. It seems to be admitted that dealers cannot keep out of the market much longer. Should prices give way, it will be less in American (U. S.) descriptions than in any other, because stocks are higher.

There has been imported into this port the first 10 months of the present year 565,424 bags, of all descriptions, which is an excess over the first 10 months of last year 4,849 bags.

Liverpool Corn Exchange, Nov. 11.
Increasing orders from Ireland for American flour cause this to be the leading article throughout the past week, and the sales of sweet and stout were each day numerous, with a progressive advance in the currency, which, up to Saturday, amounted to 4s per barrel, and in some instances this was exceeded, a few percels of Philadelphia obtaining 65s, although only part of the Baltimore offered by auction was sold at 58s, the time of delivery from the vessel not being precisely stated. Wheat of all denominations, though not proportionally dearer was however raised 6d per bushel.

The demand at to-day's market exceeded for wheats of the middling description, which obtained 9d to 1s per bushel more than on this day se'night the holders of the finer qualities demanding a corresponding advance, the sales such were not so numerous. Flour was not in so extensive demand, the ships from Ireland being nearly completed, as it cannot be admitted there althe 14th instant. The supply of wheat was small, and they are therefore 3d bushel dearer, but this does not apply old parcels. Barley, old as well as new, was in better request, but without an advance to the rates. New malt is offered to be delivered from the country on 1st or terms.

He was the first Editor of the Providence Gazette, which paper he established in the year 1793, there being at that period no printing press in that town. He published newspapers successively, in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, closing in the latter city his professional labors. The first years of his long life we passed amid the turmoil of useful activities—the last in the bosom of domestic quiet. He had just completed his 77th year, and the fine threads which bound him to mortality gave way without a struggle. His family sorrowed not without the hope, that through the merits of the Saviour in whom he trusted, he has found pardon and acceptance.

Land for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for sale, about 2000 acres of land in Fairfax county, not more than from seven to nine miles from Alexandria. The property is well watered, has a sufficiency of wood, and (judging from the condition of small and well cultivated farms that adjoin it) it is highly susceptible of improvement. It is at present divided into tenements, of from one to two hundred acres, each provided with a dwelling house, out houses, a garden and orchard; and might, of course, be laid out into four or five very compact farms. The principal object of the subscriber, being the introduction of a good system of husbandry into his neighborhood, he will sell on very moderate terms, give a long credit on the whole amount of the purchase money, and require no other interest, than what the present rent of the land pays, being about 5 per cent. on its estimated value.

Sully for Sale.
THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaster of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and those now untillied, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed; the out-houses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.
For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.
A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.
Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax, FRANCIS LIGHTFOOT LEE.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
I WILL give the above reward for taking up and delivering to me in Alexandria, or lodging in jail so that I get him again, negro man WILLIAM, who eloped from Washington, D. C. (where he was hired) about 8 weeks ago. William is about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, tolerably well made, yellow complexion, large mouth, very white teeth, and to the best of my recollection a scar on his right cheek—he is very fond of drink, and when intoxicated in a great reprobate and excessively noisy. His clothing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit.

She probably has gone to Baltimore, or some of the northern cities, as it is supposed she was seen the next day on the road near Bladensburg, clad in a staff dress and a cloak or mantle, with a bundle of clothes in her hands. She may possibly be about the town, or in the District. Thirty dollars will be given for apprehending her, if taken within the District, or forty, if at a greater distance, and all reasonable charges defrayed. Enquire of

James Kennedy & Son, BOOKSELLERS.
KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA.
RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store,
No. 46, Maiden Lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES: Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small map-worm; the Cucurbitinae or short flat white worms; and lastly, the Tania or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and looseness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended HARRIS' ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
HARRIS' ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS have been used with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the South and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Each of this conclusive nature speaks more in favour of a medicine than a volume of pompous eulogy founded mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further that in the earlier stages of these diseases their use will very generally succeed restoring health, and frequently in the most desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to counteract superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are of ten fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness of the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstructions, coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Looseness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affections Gout in the stomach Lardaceousness Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.
